Natal also known as the 'City of the Dunes' and no wonder, as this busy Brazilian city is fronted by 8km of dunes, coconut trees and reefs teeming with fish. Natal has many sandy beaches with probably 'Ponta Negra' being one of the most famous in the Natal region. Not only are their low property prices but dining out around the many restaurants and bars this friendly city has to offer are also at a fraction of the cost you would normally find in many Northern European countries like Spain for example.

Natal is one of Brazil's major tourist destinations (5th most popular in Brazil) and is growing more and more popular with both Brazilian and International tourists, due in part no doubt to being one of the safest capital cities in Brazil with proximity to Europe and North America. Its international airport receives visitors from North America, UK and Europe daily, however Natal has a new airport currently under construction and when completed will be possibly the largest airport in South America and the 4th or 5th largest airport in the world with completion due by 2009.

The new airport will have the capacity to bring thousands of more tourists from all over the world to the Natal region and thus creating huge prosperity for the city and region as a whole. With this prosperity property prices in the region are forecast to skyrocket..The city of Natal in this tropical paradise of North East Brazil no-doubt has a rosy future and those property investors who invest now, can expect to have a rosy future too.
